

ACDP Integrated Management System Scope

Australian Centre for Disease
Preparedness (ACDP)

1 Objective

The Australian Centre for Disease Preparedness (ACDP) located at 5 Portarlington Rd, East Geelong, VIC 3219 has established a framework of guiding policies, procedures and supporting systems referred to as the Integrated Management System (IMS). This framework assures the delivery of our products and services to prevent harm to people and animals from infectious diseases in line with our organisational values, stakeholder expectations and regulatory requirements.

The purpose of this document is to clearly communicate the scope of ACDP's IMS to all relevant internal and external interested parties and stakeholders.

2 Integrated Management System Scope

ACDP maintains certification/accreditation to the following international standards:

- ISO 9001 Quality Management Systems - Requirements
- ISO 17025 Testing and Calibration Laboratories
- ISO 17043 Proficiency Testing Providers

The Integrated Management System ensures the requirements of these standards are met and assures consistent delivery of ACDP's core products and services:

- Diagnostic testing, surveillance and research to support quarantine and emergency disease outbreak responses
- Exclusion and confirmatory testing
- Reference laboratory responsibilities
- Production of controls and standards
- Provision of Proficiency Testing Schemes
- International Program to support biosecurity within the region
- In-house infrastructure and asset integrity services

Additionally, all operational support activities performed at the site are included in the scope of ACDP's Integrated Management System.

ACDP strives to nurture a site-wide culture by applying the basic principles of quality management across all scientific and support services where possible, regardless of certification / accreditation status.

ACDP delivers the trusted science that customers expect of CSIRO in line with the current scope of certification/accreditation summarized below:
