

PRIVACY STATEMENT

Applying online for a Next Generation Graduates Program grant

CSIRO is bound by the Privacy Act 1988 (Privacy Act), including the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) contained in Schedule 1 of that Act. The APPs govern the way the CSIRO handles personal information. This includes how we collect, use, disclose and secure personal information.

Your personal information is being collected by CSIRO via an online application platform (Good Grants) owned and run by Creative Force Pty Ltd. Creative Force's privacy policy is available at: <https://www.creativeforce.team/privacy-policy/>.

The personal information you provide which may include your name, contact details, or CV, is collected for the purpose of processing your application or nomination for a Next Generation Graduates Program grant. CSIRO may also use your information to administer and manage the grants program and activities including business process analysis, reporting and evaluation, promotional material for successful grants and advertising for student recruitment.

We may also collect your sensitive information, for example, where you provide photographs, which may reveal health information, racial and ethnic origin.

CSIRO may disclose your information to third parties, including Creative Force for the above purposes.

Your personal information may be disclosed overseas, as Creative Force uses data centres in the European Union and California. However, typically, CSIRO's data is stored on Australian servers.

If you do not provide your personal information, your grant application may not be able to be assessed.

The CSIRO Privacy Policy available online at <https://www.csiro.au/en/About/Access-to-information/Privacy> outlines how CSIRO handles personal information, including details about an individual can seek access or correction of their personal information. The Privacy Policy also contains information on how an individual can complain about a breach of the APPs and how CSIRO will deal with the complaint. If you require further information on how your personal information will be handled, please contact privacy@csiro.au.
