Privacy statement

Use of personal information provided in your application.

Your personal information is protected by the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).

When an application is submitted for the Young Indigenous Women's STEM Academy (the Academy), we will collect the information provided in the application form. This includes:

- contact details of the applicant, parent/carer and supporting teacher;
- the responses to the questions in the application form from the application, parent/carer and supporting teacher;
- any supporting documents included with the application, including the applicant's school report.

CSIRO will use this information to assess the applicant's suitability for the Academy, and if the application is successful, to facilitate and administer their participant in the Academy.

We may also use this information for the purposes of monitoring and evaluating the effectiveness of our programs, although where possible, we will use aggregated and de-identified data to do this.

CSIRO will not share the information with any other entity, or with any overseas recipients, without seeking your consent.

CSIRO will handle all personal information collected in accordance with CSIRO's Privacy Policy, which is available online at <https://www.csiro.au/en/About/Access-to-information/Privacy>. This Privacy Policy contains general information about:

- accessing and requesting amendment of personal information, and
- how you can make a privacy related complaint.
